

THE COMPANY PROFILE

IGR GENERAL SUPPLY LIMITED

Supply of hardware, building materials and general supplies

Welcome

A dependable supply partner for hardware, building materials and general goods.

Every enquiry begins with understanding the details: the products required, applicable specifications, quantities and where the goods are needed. Clear information helps us review requests carefully, ask relevant questions and communicate practical next steps.

IGR General Supply Limited is a Tanzanian private limited liability company based in Sea View, Kivukoni Ward, Ilala District, Dar es Salaam. Its principal business is supplying hardware, building materials and general supplies. We aim to make each discussion straightforward and keep customers informed about the next steps.

Accuracy, professional dealings and dependable follow through guide our approach. We welcome enquiries that clearly describe the products, specifications and quantities required.

A company built around supply

Company introduction

IGR General Supply Limited is a privately held company incorporated in the United Republic of Tanzania on 15 July 2026. Its principal line of business is the supply of hardware, building materials and general supplies. The company's registered business base is Sea View, Kivukoni Ward, Ilala District, Dar es Salaam, with its tax office at Upanga Tax Centre. This profile brings together the company's identity, operating location and supply focus for prospective customers, institutions and business partners. It offers an introduction to what the company does and how it approaches supply enquiries. The company's registration and tax authorities are BRELA and the Tanzania Revenue Authority. It is registered as an active private limited liability company under the Companies Act, 2002, and holds a business license valid from 20 July 2026 through 19 July 2027.

Our role

IGR General Supply Limited connects customer requirements with suitable goods within its stated areas of business. Hardware and building materials are relevant to a range of building, upkeep and repair needs; general supplies provide a wider category for other goods required by customers. Because requirements differ by item, specification, quantity and intended use, the company treats each enquiry on its own details. Its role is to understand what is requested, clarify necessary information and coordinate the next steps in a clear and professional manner. The company aims to keep the supply discussion practical and responsive, from the initial description through confirmation of the request. An enquiry may concern one supply category or several, so setting out the full scope can help establish what is being requested and what follow-up information may be needed.

How we work

A supply request starts with listening to the customer and gathering the information needed to understand it. This may include the product name or category, relevant dimensions or specifications, quantity, intended use and required location. When a description is incomplete or unclear, follow-up questions can help both parties work from the same understanding. Once the requirement is clear, IGR can review it within its hardware, building-materials or general-supplies focus and communicate appropriate next steps. Attention to detail, open communication and responsible follow-through guide this process. Keeping the item description, quantity and location clear gives both parties a shared reference as the enquiry progresses. Each request is considered according to the information available, and the company can ask for further details where they are needed.

Supply categories & selected products

IGR General Supply Limited focuses on hardware, building materials and general supplies. The selected product lines below provide further examples of goods customers may raise for consideration. Enquiries are assessed against the details provided, including specification, quantity and delivery location.

OUR PRINCIPAL SUPPLY AREAS

01

Hardware

Hardware enquiries can include tools, fittings and other items within the company's stated supply focus. Item dimensions, material preferences, intended use and any applicable specifications help define the request.

02

Building materials

Building material requirements are considered by product type, measurements or grade, quantity and destination. Sharing the intended application helps establish the details needed for a clear supply discussion.

03

General supplies

The general-supplies category allows customers to raise other business and project needs. Each enquiry is considered individually using the product description, specifications, quantity and requested timing.

SELECTED PRODUCT LINES

The following products are included as specific examples within the company's broader supply offering. Customers are encouraged to state the required grade or product type, quantity, packaging where relevant and delivery location.

01 | PRODUCT LINE

Sulphur

Sulphur shown in lump and granular forms. Enquiries should identify the required grade or form, quantity and destination.

02 | PRODUCT LINE

Bitumen & asphalt

Materials for road surfacing requirements. Please include the applicable grade or specification, project quantity and delivery location.

03 | PRODUCT LINE

Oil products

Oil and petroleum product enquiries can specify product type, packaging, quantity and any handling or delivery requirements.

HELP US REVIEW YOUR ENQUIRY

From enquiry to supply

01

Understand

We begin by listening to what the customer needs and clarifying the item description, applicable specifications, quantity and intended use. A clear starting point helps make sure the request is understood before discussing the next steps.

02

Confirm

We review the details with the customer so the request is understood consistently. If a specification or other important point is unclear, we seek clarification. Confirming the requirement helps reduce misunderstandings and keeps attention on the goods the customer actually needs.

03

Coordinate

Once the requirement is clear, we coordinate the supply process and communicate relevant next steps in a timely, professional manner. We keep the discussion tied to the details provided and make clear what information or action is needed as the request progresses.

04

Follow through

We aim to maintain clear contact through fulfilment and address questions constructively. Responsible follow-through supports a dependable working relationship and helps keep the customer informed about the status of the request and any agreed actions.

Our service standard

Clear requirements. Professional communication. Responsible coordination.
